Deus.Ex.Human.Revolution Update V 1.1.622.0 PROPER With Lucky Patcher.Q: 2-level domain names with spammy registrar We have a small ISP and many of our customers use our domain registrar to register their domains. The customer reviews on that site are generally not good, and the only way to fix that is to report it to Google, which in turn leads to a Google review for the site and everyone gets a review on that site. We have found a solution to the Google issue and we are looking to have the same solution for our registrar reviews. How can we prevent sites with spammy registrars from registering 2-level domain names? Is there a way we can block specific subdomains in the "domain name" field? A: Managing the reputation of a registrar is something that happens at the registrar level and they don't talk to the.com TLD registry. You need to be talking to the individual registry at the.com level. If there is an issue with the registrar, it should be handled with the registry owner. Also, there are things you can do at the registrar level to weed out the spammy registrars. If you find that certain registrars are spamming the.com registry, let them know and take action against them. Get to the registry and explain the problem to them.
