[FULL] TOAD For Oracle 9.6.0.27 - Portable ((HOT))

Download

This example starts a schema-mode export (the default) of the hr schema. Because CLUSTER=NO is specified, the job uses only the instance on which it started. (If you do not specify the CLUSTER parameter, then the default value of Y is used. With that value, if necessary, workers are started on other instances in the Oracle RAC cluster). The dump files are written to the location specified for the dpump_dir1 directory object. The job can have up to 3 parallel processes. The DATAPUMP_EXP_FULL_DATABASE role option can be used to export the schema data for a database. The DATAPUMP_EXP_FULL_DATABASE role option can also be used to provide information about any objects and privileges that are not included in the schema data that can be exported from the database. In addition, the role option can be used to pass the flag ALL_OBJECTS to the export operation. Specifies the toad profile for dumping the table definitions that are exported by the export/import system by default (unless specified for any other purpose). The default profile is set by the parameter TDBASE_PROF_TYPE. You can override the default profile by using the parameter TDBASE_PROF_TYPE. Oracle8i Database Utilities DATAPUMP_FULL_DATABASE_MODE is a new option that is supported for exporting databases and user objects. By default, DATAPUMP_FULL_DATABASE_MODE is set to 1. Use the FILL_DATABASE_MODE parameter to set the default value of this mode to 0. FILL_DATABASE_MODE enables the exporting of the table definitions. After the export is completed, the database is unmounted. DATAPUMP_FULL_DATABASE_MODE cannot be used with FILE_SEPARATOR = '/' option.
